Faculty Toolkit

Overview

These Information + Data Literacy canvas workshops and other resources represent a curated instructional experience which can enrich any lower or upper-level course with a research component. Assign one or more self-guided Canvas workshops and learning experiences to students directly or in collaboration with your librarian.

These canvas workshops, videos, and associated resources can be accessed via:

- Info + Data Literacy Playlists: These curated playlists are arranged thematically to align with USF's Enhanced Education curriculum.
- A-Z list: Create your own playlist by browsing workshops, videos, and library guides that can be filtered by level, discipline, and theme.
- Workshop Learning Outcomes: Browse through all the learning outcomes to identify workshops and videos that best meet your curricular needs.

Earning Badges

Digital badging is a way that students can demonstrate accomplishment of newly learned knowledge and skills. The workshop modules listed here are all badge-earning, via the BADGR application. The opportunity to earn a badge for completing one or more of these workshops provides a:

- Tangible incentive for the student who successfully completes them,
- Mechanism for professors to verify completion, and
- Integrates student completion data with platforms such as LinkedIn & Handshake, and is also used by the Career Services Career Readiness program.

Students earn a badge for a workshop if they complete all quizzes and graded activities in the workshop with a score of at least 60%.
